FORD & CO.

A Successful Firm.

James McClure and Thos. Sparks, as administrators of the late Col. John G. Craddock, have closed a contract with the Bourbon Granite and Marble Works, of this city, for a handsome granite sarcophagus, to be erected on the lot in the Paris cemetery. James C. and Wm. F. Bryan, of North Middletown, have also given the same firm a contract for a fine granite monument to be placed on their lot in North Middletown cemetery. This firm has just erected a beautiful granite monument on the John W. Harmon lot in the Paris cemetery, besides erecting work in Lexington, Cyathiana, Winchester, Georgetown and Stanford cemeteries.

There will be preaching at the Baptist Church Sunday morning and evening.

Heavy Rain Storm.

The rain storm Tuesday night and Wednesday morning was one of the heaviest in years. South of Paris considerable damage was done. On the farm of Joseph A. Howerton two large tobacco beds, containing enough plants to set thirty acres of tobacco, were swept away by the rushing water. Fences were also washed away and many fields of corn badly washed.

Further south, on the farm of James Russell, several tobacco beds were washed away by the overflow. The rain will enable farmers to commence setting their tobacco plants.

A HANDSOME SHOP.—Buck Freeman has refitted his barber shop, and now has one of the handsomest shops in the city. He also has three good barbers who are up to date, and you do not have to wait. Give Buck a call and see his nice new shop.

Patronize Home Industry.

Now is the time to build up Lexington. Paraphrasing an old saying: "Patronize Lexington merchants as you want them to patronize you."

Remember that every dollar spent with Lexington merchants increases the value of home industry that much. Practically everything you want can be bought through some Lexington business houses. Therefore investigate before buying, and give your fellow townsmen the benefit of the trade, all things being equal.

Don't send your money out of town.

The above is a standing editorial in the Lexington Leader. Its advice is very wholesome, and what is true of Lexington is equally true of Paris. Why should Paris and Bourbon county people go to Lexington for anything desired when our stores are teeming with a large and varied assortment of everything needed in the home and on the farm? We have repeatedly urged our people to patronize home industry and thereby advance the financial and commercial advantages of our city.

Take the good advice of The Leader: "Don't send your money out of town."

NOTICE.

DEATHS.

—Miss Jennie Lee Brown, aged 12 years, daughter of Frank and Fredonia Brown, died Wednesday morning at the home of her parents on Fourth street, after a continued illness of several months.

The immediate cause of her death was heart failure resulting from a stubborn attack of rheumatism. Miss Jennie was the pride of the household, and an exceptionally bright child, just budding into womanhood. For months she had been confined to her bed, the object of parental and brotherly love and care. Everything that human aid could do was done to save or prolong her life, but to no avail. The funeral will take place today from the residence at 2:30 o'clock. Services by Rev. J. L. Clark. Burial at Paris cemetery.
